AMAG/Awareness Magazine is a magazine for the Conscious Professional and started its 2005 subscription ad campaign and it is hot. Founder James Lisbon spent some time putting out a model search in early November and the response and talent he received was refreshing.

"AMAG" is trying to move forward by keeping things fresh. With solid content, we are now focusing on our market appeal and enhancing the AMAG brand'

Be ready for AMAG's hot and inventive ads to pop up where you least expect them. They will entice you to browse its pages. It was a hard pick but AMAG's first model for the 2005 subscription campaign is DC's own Kevina Rivers. Kevina is a model and entrepreneur from Waldorf, Maryland, who has been in the fashion and entertainment industry for nearly five years.

Kevina has hosted seven fashion shows with 300 or more spectators and assists with local events as both a model and a coordinator. It's no doubt that her runway modeling and print experience will help AMAG's campaign to shine. No stranger to the smarts or to the good looks, Kevina will get the new year started.

"We must not overlook the photographer, Sharif Talib [www.shariftalib.com], who brought his "A game' to this campaign and we look forward to more of his phenomenal work in future ads.' Sharif is a seasoned photographer who reigns from the Mt. Ranier region of Maryland. He pegs himself as a concept photographer that conveys a complete idea in each shot.

AMAG is excited with the energy and creative talent he lends to this project. With the professionalism and drive that both Sharif and Kevina share, AMAG could not have found a better pair of conscious professionals. Look for new ads every two weeks in all our major markets; at the poetry spot, music venues, your local books stores, your mailbox, music events. Everywhere The Conscious Professional embarks.
